

ACKU corners have been established in a number of Kabul Universities and we have begun to introduce them to some of the provincial universities. These are dedicated corners of University libraries, where there are two terminals that students can use to access the ACKU catalog and download PDFs where available. All that is required is a steady electricity supply and an adequate internet connection.